A metabolic care programme built around your existing patients.

We're exploring how your pharmacy could turn its patient list into a profitable care programme under your own brand, with Lina coordinating testing, treatment follow up and ongoing monitoring.

How it could work

Identify patients
Find people at risk in your existing list.

Test
At home or in your pharmacy.

Clinician review
Understand results and agree a care plan.

Treat
Start treatment where appropriate.

Monitor
Repeat testing and follow up as needed.

Ongoing revenue
From patients returning for useful care.

Your brand and clinical oversight, with Lina coordinating delivery. We would agree lawful use of patient data and contact permissions before inviting anyone.

Help us decide whether this is worth building.

If you already dispense weight loss medication, we'd like to understand what would make this useful in your pharmacy. As a design partner, your input would shape the programme and a small pilot.

If we build it, design partners may receive free tests through the pilot. The proposed model is for Lina to be paid when patients enrol.

Explore the idea with us

15 minutes to share your perspective

Who you'll be speaking with

Johnny Wordsworth

Emilian